

EPC

Eimer Project Consulting (EPC) provides support for the preparation and implementation of complex projects at national and international levels. Their work focuses on the conceptual development and guidance of applied research projects in the fields of renewable energy, climate protection, the environment, planning and technologies for information and communications. Education, communication and transfer are the key aspects in many project proposals as well as their interdisciplinary nature.

Profound consulting concerning grants and related application processes are the basis for the acquisition of financial support from the Federal Republic of Germany as well as from the European Union. The development of high-quality consortiums by bringing together suitable project participants is part of EPC's field of functions. In parallel with the application management service, EPC provides support for stringent project development as well as subsequent project management.

In addition EPC offers target-group specific communication and facilitation services. These activities include project specific public relations, conducting workshops and the long-term involvement of different stakeholder groups targeting at their active participation in project and planning processes.
